About the University

The Otto-von-Guericke University (OVGU) of Magdeburg was founded in 1993. Being established in a merger of the previous Technical University, the Teacher Training College and the Medical School, it is now one of the youngest German universities.

The university comprises 9 faculties and offers more than 100-degree courses. With over 13,800 students coming from 95 countries, OVGU is becoming increasingly important as the centre of education and research in Central Germany and beyond.

The University is named after Otto von Guericke (1602 – 1686). He was Magdeburg's famous son, a politician, scholar and then-mayor of the town. He was the founder in the field of vacuum engineering, well-known beyond German borders.

Useful Information

The City of Magdeburg

At an age of more than 1200 years, Magdeburg is one of the oldest cities of Central Germany. It has experienced an interesting and eventful history through times of peace and war.

The city has approximately 238,000 inhabitants who live along Elbe River. Although Magdeburg was partly destroyed in during war times, the city offers many ancient, attractive buildings. The most famous is the Magdeburg Cathedral in the heart of the city centre.

The “Grüne Zitadelle” designed by the architect Friedensreich Hundertwasser constitutes a controversial but important component of the newer architecture of the city and has established itself as a major tourist attraction since its opening in 2005.

Find some more information about our green and enjoyable town on: www.magdeburg.de

Finding your Way

On campus you will find several big maps to help you with orientation. The Student Service Center (Building 01, close to the tram stop “University”) is the main information point on campus. All campus buildings are numbered. An interactive map of the campus can be found on: http://www.fokus-du.de/front_content.php?idcatart=492&client=5&lang=6

Public Transport

Magdeburg has a convenient public transport system, with trams, buses and even two Elbe river ferries. As enrolled student, you must take your student ID with you when using public transport. You need to show it to the ticket inspector in case of a control.

Before the enrolment, please buy a regular ticket at a ticket vending machine either at the tram/bus stop or inside the tram. Using public transport without valid ticket may be fined with 60€.

Internet

During the very first days of your stay, you won't have access to the wireless internet/computers on campus. You can use several internet cafés in the vicinity of the campus.

After registration and receiving your student ID, you may register your account at one of the terminals in the computer lab (Building 26.1). With your university account you can log on to the computers on campus and you can check your OVGU student e-mails. With this account you can also use your own laptop to access the internet.

You need to bring a LAN cable/internet cable by yourself if you live at Studentenwerk, then you can use the internet right away. If there is no cable you would need to buy a cable in an electronic store.

Food

Most students have lunch at the canteen (Building 27), called “Mensa”. You have the choice of several meals: meat, fish and vegetarian food. You can also enjoy a large salad buffet.

Furthermore there are small cafés on campus, e.g. in the library (Building 30) and in some faculty buildings (Buildings 16, 18 and 40).

In your dorm you will have a kitchen, where you can cook individually or with friends. An “NP” supermarket, open from 06am to midnight from Monday to Saturday is located 200 meters from the campus in Jacobstraße 13.

If you need any kind of dishes you can go to Woolworth or IKEA. Woolworth is located close to the university. It is a 10 mins walk. If you want to go to IKEA you can use tram number 1 from “Universität” to “IKEA”.

Shopping

The main shopping facilities are located in the city centre. There are two shopping malls: Allee Center and City-Carrée. The street “Breiter Weg” invites for shopping with numerous small shops and boutiques.

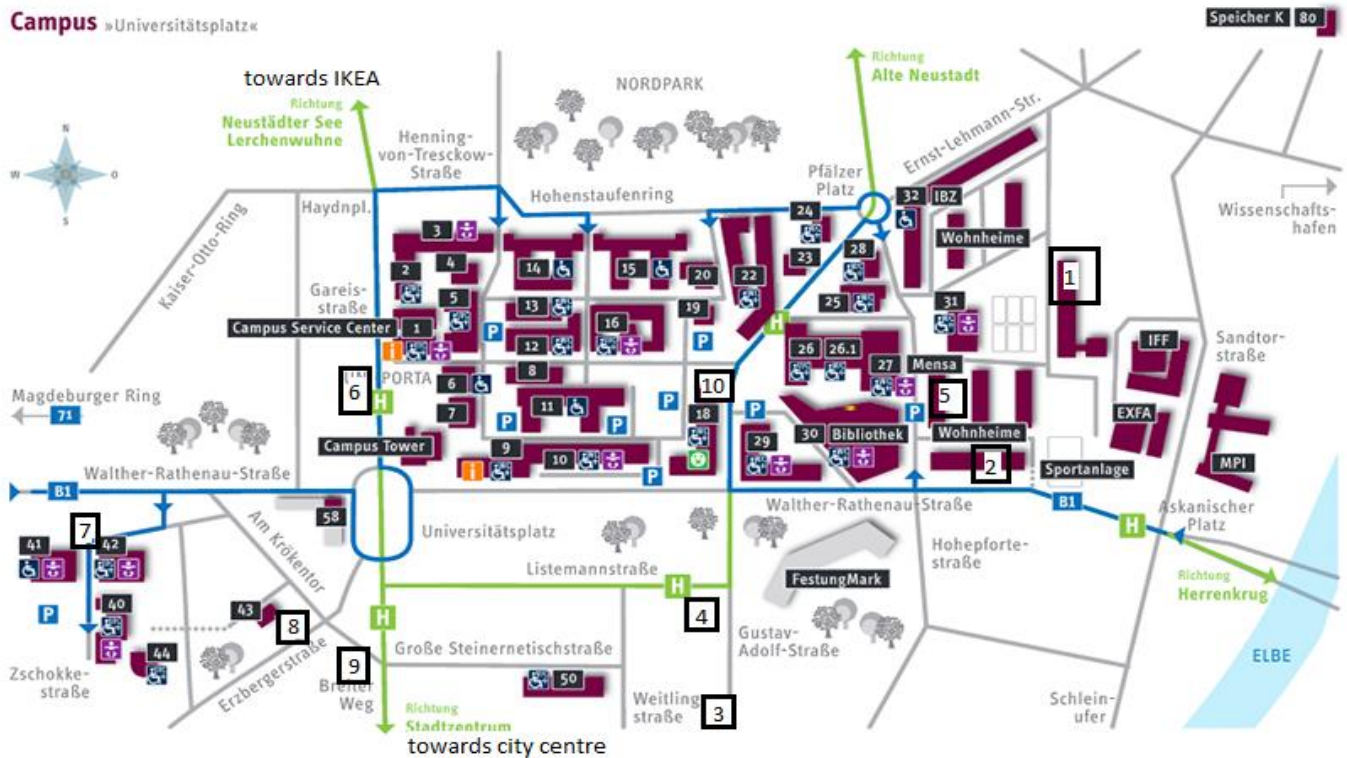

Doctors and Pharmacies

In case of an accident or illness you have the choice of numerous doctors in town. Just call one and make an appointment but please note that not all of them speak English fluently.

If you need to see a doctor without previous appointment, you should be prepared to wait some time. You have to take your health insurance card with you. The nearest English speaking physician is near “Nordpark”:

<https://praxis-am-nordpark.net/en/>

The nearest pharmacy is located next to the University Place (“Universitätsplatz”) at the tram stop “Opernhaus” (Opera house).

1. Studentenwerk
2. Wohnheim 9 and IKUS
3. NP (supermarket)
4. Greek restaurant
5. Mensa (big cafeteria)
6. Kebab restaurant and tram station "Universität"
7. Faculty of humanities
8. Various small restaurants
9. Woolworth (shop for cheap kitchen tools and other useful stuff)
10. International Office

The red buildings are the buildings of the university. You can see the building numbers on the map. Also, you can find the tram station (green H) and parking areas on the map.

Leisure Activities

The University sports center offers a lot of free sports courses for students. Make sure to register early, since usually the most popular ones might fill up within half an hour after registration has started.

Furthermore there are several parks e.g. the Nordpark right behind the Campus and swimming pools (also outdoor) e.g. Elbeschwimmhalle and Nautica, which you can use for sports activities.

If you are tired of being active, why not heading for the Opera or the “Kammerspiele” theatre with their many offers (www.theater-magdeburg.de), or for the Cinemaxx (movie theater) or for one of the small independent cinemas (Moritzhof, Studiokino, OLI at Olvenstedter Strasse).

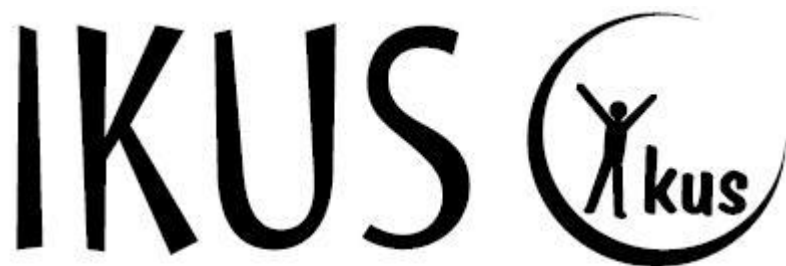

If you like to go out, the Hasselbach square area offers the best opportunities to relax in a café or bar.

Last but not least – IKUS Intercultural Students

If you need help, if you have a problem, or if you just have a simple question, do not hesitate to visit the IKT place (“Interkultureller Treffpunkt”) and ask the IKUS for help. IKUS is a group of German and international students–volunteers who assist all international students at OVGU. Almost each week of the semester, the IKUS students offer several social and cultural activities for you to get to know the German culture, but also other students and their cultures.

Try the IKUS services: Weekly office hours for counselling, table football nights (Kickus), movie nights, country evenings, trips, sports tournaments, parties and many more activities in and around Magdeburg.
